THE DEMOCRATIC MILITARY BILL REPORTED LIKELY TO APPROVE THE BILL-THE NEGRO EXODUS-PERSONAL-COMMITTEE NEWS-THE LOUISIANA SENATORIAL CASE.

[From Our Regular Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, May 6 .- Everybody looked to the House Judiciary Committee to-day because it was to consider the Democratic cancus bill in regard to the use of troops at the pells, which I will call the Ladd bill hereafter to save space. By a party vote, the committee before 12 o'clock had agreed to report the bill, and Democrats and Republicans subsequently arranged that it should not be taken up until to-morrow at 2 o'clock, and that a vote should be had at 4 o'clock. The Democrats had no desire to speak, and two hours would have given the Republicans an smple opportunity to tell the country why they thought the bill should not pass. The Democrats seemed to think all was right, but they forgot they had to deal with leaders who will scraple at nothing they think will belp their party. After the members of the committee went into the House and were waiting their turn to report, the Republicans informed Mr. Knott that they waived their request for delay, and would offer a substitute. Sure enough, when Mr. Knott reported the Ladd bill, Mr. Robeson drew a voluminous substitute and commenced reading it. The preamble alone contained Radical patriotism enough for a Fourth-of-July speech, and the bill, while following to some extent the text of the Lodd bill, made it so general as to take all the point out of it. Then the additions were Robesonian, and the comment of a North Carolinian was that it was stronger than the bill Haves vetoed. After the demand for the previous question Conger wanted to get in an amendment to the Ladd bill, but the Democrats would not let him. This made him venomously mad, and it was clear that he meant some attempt at mischief. The call for the previous question being sustained, and the substitute by a party vote defeated, the Ladd bill was engrossed and then put on its final passage. The Speaker here made Con- ation as chief justice of Utah. ger again furious by ruling him out of order, so as to put the House in a roar of laughter. When the names of the Republi-. cans were now called they refused to vote, and there was no quorum. Conger smiled, as much as to say, I am in order now. There was a call of the House, and then Conger moved to recommit the bill with instructions, but was promptly ruled out of order again. The filibustering contiqued, and Conger asked to have his amendment read, but there were objections, Conger started to say something sarcastic, longer for the amusement of those gentlemen, pointing to the Republican side, and moved an adjournment, but the House declined to adjourn. After more at-

there the matter will end. THE PRESIDENT WILL SIGN THE BILL. Well-informed Republicans to-night at 11 o'clock say the President will sign the Ladd bill, and they speak with confidence, while the Democrats are in high spirits at the attitude in which the Re-House placed themselves before the country. Senator Ben. Hill will speak toeasy lest he may inaugurate a protracted debate on the use of troops at the polls, when they have agreed in caucus to dispose of the subject without debate on their part.

COMMITTEE NEWS TO-DAY. The Ways and Means Committee to-day was engaged in hearing sundry subjects of iaterest to the refiners of whiskey discussed, and among these was the necessity of the repeal of the recent law requiring bonds of refiners. It was contended that the Government heretofore has been amply protected against fraud, and this new law imposes an unnecessary burden and hardship. For some days apprehensions were felt by his friends and acquaintances, which were increased by the fact that he was known to have received a considerable sum of money on the day he left, and foul play is painfully suspected. These apprehensions increased upon his non-appearance, and excited his fellow-students so much that study was impossible, and vesterday lectures were suspended. The students furned out in a body, scouring the country north and west of the University for five or six miles, leaving hardly a leaf unturned that might hide his body. Nothing was discovered.
